

Vocalization in Group Writing: a New Proposal

- §0 Foreword
- §1 Introduction
- §2 Methodological problems in previous models
- §3 Group writing – A new approach
 - §3.1 Definition of the corpus
 - §3.2 The nature of the system
 - §3.3 The number of vowels
- §4 Group writing – A new model
 - §4.1 Definition of the interpretative model
 - §4.2 The sign 𐤀
 - §4.3 $\text{𐤀} = rC / r\# \text{ and } \text{𐤁} = nC / n\#$
 - §4.4 𐤀 in final position
 - §4.5 Special readings for two groups
 - §4.5.1 k3 and the development of /a/ in proximity of /k/
 - §4.5.2 $\text{𐤀} = d^v$
- §5 Group writing – Data and analyses
 - §5.1 Period 1
 - §5.2 Period 2
 - §5.3 Period 3
- §6 Egyptian i/u and i:/u: in light of the Semitic evidence
- §7 Synchronic analysis
- §8 Diachronic analysis
- §9 Statistical analysis
 - §9.1 Theoretical background
 - §9.2 Results
- §10 The development of Coptic 𐩢
- §11 The group 𐤀 – additional observations
- §12 The group 𐤁
 - §12.1 The group 𐤁 – interpretation
 - §12.2 The group 𐤁 – Attestations in the Onomasticon of Amenope
 - §12.3 Words in construct state – Some observations
- §13 The case of ym - 𐤀𐤎
- §14 Conclusions
- Appendix A
- Appendix B